Latest Updates

The Director-General of the World Health Organisation has urged governments to increase their efforts to prepare for COVID-19 and believes 'it's impossible to predict which direction this epidemic will take'.

Despite calls for increased international cooperation, Cambodian authorities have disputed Malaysian test results after an American passenger from the cruise ship MS Westerdam tested positive for the virus in Malaysia. The ship docked in the Cambodian port of Sihanoukville after being turned away by multiple countries. The 83-year-old woman, after disembarking in Cambodia, flew to Malaysia's Kuala Lumpur International Airport and showed symptoms of infection.

Eight of the nine people diagnosed with COVID-19 in the United Kingdom have left the hospital, having now twice tested negatively for the virus. More than 100 people are still in quarantine at a hotel north of London after arriving from China last week. 70 more passengers on board the Diamond Princess cruise, currently under quarantine at the Japanese port of Yokohama, have tested positive for the virus, on top of 67 new infections reported yesterday. The total number of infections on board the Diamond Princess is now 356. At present, it is unclear whether these new confirmed cases will lead to an extension of the quarantine measure. Multiple countries including Hong Kong, the United States and Australia have announced plans to repatriate their citizens on board.

On Saturday, 15 February, France's health minister announced the death of an 80-year-old Chinese national at a Paris hospital. This is the first fatality in Europe and the fourth outside mainland China.

The Security Centre and Solace Global Advice

- TSCL and Solace Global advises against non-essential travel to Hong Kong and Macau.
- Continue to monitor the situation closely, the situation remains fluid and new travel restrictions and further outbreaks may occur with no warning.
- Do not travel if ill, as you may be subject to additional screening, delays and even quarantine, regardless of destination or country of origin.
- Monitor yourself for symptoms, should you suspect that you have contracted the virus, self-quarantine and immediately call your relevant embassy and/or the local authorities.

If currently in or travelling to China:

- Strictly monitor all updates via both local and international media, Chinese and other government authorities and Solace Secure.
- Always maintain a good hygiene level, use hand sanitizer and wash hands regularly, and wear a surgical mask whilst in public places.
- Travellers and residents should be prepared for further travel restrictions to be put into effect with little or no advanced notice.
